THE HESTER COETSEE LAW WEEK ART COMPETITION 2025

ENTRY FORM and GUIDELINES

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

LAW WEEK runs from 16 to 22 May 2025.

It is a major community event held each year for the Western Australian community and the legal profession. This is a chance to find out more about the law and our legal system and provides a unique opportunity to take the law outside of offices and courtrooms into the public.

Law Week is an opportunity to help people see how the law affects them on a daily basis.

THE THEME

Regional Alliance West ("RAW") is marking Law Week 2025 with an art competition with the theme "Law and the Cars We Drive". When you think about the everyday activity of driving a vehicle, do you ever think that this has something to do with the law?

- Licensing laws are laws that decide who has a driver's licence, which vehicles they can drive and how many passengers they can carry. The WA Government has recently introduced a law known as Tom's Law that restricts red P-plates to only one passenger in most cases. What would this law mean for you or your family?
- The Road rules are laws that control things like speed limits, stopping, giving way, drink driving, and using your phone. If someone breaks these rules, they can lose their driver's licence. In some cases, they can still apply for an extraordinary driver's licence.
- Buying and selling vehicles is also affected by the law. If you buy from a dealer, you might have some warranty protection if things go wrong. But if you buy from a private seller, it is "buyer beware", meaning you don't have that same protection. The law also limits how many vehicles you can buy and sell in a year without a dealer licence.
- Vehicle loans you take out from banks or finance companies to buy a vehicle are controlled by laws as well. They set out how the lender should deal with you.
- Vehicle Registration laws lay out the obligations that come with owning a vehicle. There are laws about registering, insuring and keeping your vehicle roadworthy.
- Traffic Accidents are covered by the law as well. If you are in a car crash the law decides who is responsible for the crash, who has to pay to repair any vehicle damage, and whether anyone has to pay compensation money to a person who was injured.

How have some of these laws affected you? What does having a driver's licence or not having a driver's licence mean for you?

HOME-LESS

Every Australian has the right to an adequate standard of living – including housing. Even if you are not in the financial position to either buy or rent a home on the open market, there is the Option of public housing. Currently the Government is failing to secure families access to this basic human right, therefore families end up homeless but even in this situation there are laws that apply. The Homelessness Bill 2013 (the Bill) is an outline of the Commonwealth’s recognition of persons who are homeless or at risk of homelessness. The Bill sets out the Commonwealth’s goal to reduce the number of people who are or are at risk of experiencing homelessness – but for now, these people have no other option than to live on the street.
